MESSAGE FROM THE PRESTIDENT

Prachoom Pongpan
Asst. Prof. Prachoom Pongpan
President

As for the coming decade (A.D. 2010-2019), the corporate target is to elevate the University's education potential from local to regional level, especially to pursue international education in the Greater Mekhong sub-regional area, which shares our historical socio-cultural traits. The impediment of international borders has become a thing of the past, allowing in the present day more exchange and collaboration in politics, economics, cultures, and education among the four nations of Cambodia, Lao PDR., Vietnam and Thailand. In order to sustain such purpose, the nations in this region, including China, have become more widely and variously developed and more involved in international relations. The ultimate goal of education, therefore, is to search out another effective way to create a new dimensional practice for the improved life of the population in the region. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all those giving support and encouragement in forwarding the university's affairs, and maintaining its educational standard, and enabling all to grow and to develop forever.

UBON RATCHATHANI RAJABHAT UNIVERSITY

VISION

To be a leading university aimed at human resource development in the local areas and the Greater Mekong Sub-region (GMS), conducting research, providing technical services to the society, and being a key mechanism to enforce national strategies for sustainable development.

MISSION

- To provide quality education for new graduates and human resource development in accordance with the need of the society and the country.
- To study and conduct research to create a new prospect of knowledge, integrating global and local wisdom for sustainable local development.
- To integrate the teaching and learning activities, and the research to support community affairs in order to maintain the university's position as a center for local and regional development.
- To conserve, renovate and disseminate the local and cultural heritage to establish pride in being locality and being Thai.
- To prepare and develop educational personnel and elevate the teaching profession.

BACKGROUND

Ubon Ratchathani Rajabhat University (UBRU) originally only a teacher training college is proud to celebrate 100 years of providing education and community services.

First established in 1915 in Ubon Ratchani Province, the Ministry of Education granted the Province to upgrade the collage in 1916 extending courses in elementary agricultural teacher training in 1923, followed by handcraft teacher training in 1924. Later in 1936, the Provincial Women's School was built at the same location for a teacher training diploma school partly for women only. Later in 1942, a preparation university school was built in the same location as the teacher training diploma school, which is now UBRU.

In 1947, an Ubon Ratchathani teacher training school was further endorsed and upgraded by offering the diploma level in order to give more opportunities to students who wanted higher education in 1958. At the same time, the Ubon Ratchathani teacher training school was promoted to be the Ubon teacher college which has been continually developed unit the present time.

In 1975, an act of legislation was issued that the teacher collage needed to offer academic excellence to at least the bachelor degree level. Further, in 1948 a community college was constructed in the Ubon Ratchathani college to extend the academic based by offering other curricular subjects in the fields other than merely education and teacher training. This was a major turning point as on February 14, 1992 His Majesty the King gave the university the name of "Rajabhat" to all teacher training colleges in the country including Ubon Ratchathani college which now has the new specially endorsed Royal name of Ubon Ratchathani Rajabaht University (UBRU) to provide higher academic education beyond bachelor degrees to include master and doctoral degrees.
