

The College of Laws and Political Science. It offers 3 bachelor degrees in Law, Public Administration, and Political Science. Its core identity is as the following: Civil awareness, Professional excellence, Leadership, Responsibility, and Social services. The graduates will be honored both in professional specialization and ethical aspects. They are ready to contribute their knowledge for social and national development.

The College of Information and Communication Technology offers degree of Bachelor of Science. There are 3 majors which are Computer Science, Information Technology, and Geo-information Technology. In the current competitive technological society, the College develops the students with technological knowledge and creative innovation. They will be able to comply with universal standard of the ever changing informational technology industry.

The Graduate School. It offers graduate degrees which are Master of Education, Master of Arts in Strategic Development, Master of Public Administration (Local Government), and Master of Business Administration. The doctoral degree is offered in Educational Administration. The graduates from Roi-Et Rajabhat University are persons of academic excellence and ethical integrity. Thesis and dissertation will be supervised for academic quality to have them published widely and presented academic conferences.

Roi-Et Rajabhat University is the first higher education institute of Roi-Et Province. Since 2001, It was established based on the objectives of academic service, research, and professional development. It is the central of the community where it provides recent knowledge for people. In order to prepare them for economic development and ASEAN community, the university has served all of these goals.

Currently, there are over 8,000 students enrolled in the every faculties and colleges. 7,500 students are in bachelor degree while 500 students are the master and doctoral degree. For over 15 years, we have become the center of academic services. Our graduates are the value human resources in various organizations nationwide. From the past to present, Roi Et Rajabhat University is still ambitious to develop sustainably to become the quality Q- GREEN University. There are three Q which mean quality curriculum, quality students, and quality staff. GREEN stands for: G Good governance , R Research-based , E Economy Sufficiency , E Environment N Network

Under the administration of the current president, Assistance Professor Dusit Ubolert, we are striving to be Q-GREEN university as the be called "People of the His Majesty, Servant of the Kingdom"

In terms of instruction, the university serves students with standard curriculum to achieve them to be the finest quality graduates to serve the local and national needs. In terms of research and development, it encourages research to be the basis of knowledge transfer and instructional development. Therefore, it will be the research based learning university to make students be able to transfer knowledge and technology for the community. Also, the university has applied his majesty's Sustainable Economy Philosophy to be our leading principle.

The University provides different curriculum in the following faculties and colleges.

The Faculty of Arts and Sciences. It offers the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science, and the Bachelor of Communication Arts. Bachelor of Arts is included 4 majors in Business English, Chinese, Community Development, and Information Science. Bachelor of Science is included 9 majors by the following: Computer Science, Animal Science, Sport Science, Electronics, Electrical, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and Public Health. Whereas there is one major in the Bachelor of Communication Arts.

Students will be fully completed with academic and various skills such as language and communication as well as scientific and research. They will be the graduates who realize professional virtue, cultural preservation, and hand-on experiences. Eventually they will become the proficient graduates who eligible in the competitive job market.

Our research in science is complying with the international and national research interests. We are conducting several research projects under funding of NRCT (The National Research Council of Thailand) and our research funds. Research projects in renewable energy in local are included in the following projects: biogas from agricultural materials, bioethanol from corn cellulose, ethylalcohol fermentation and distillation, and biodiesel from cooking oil. They are our efforts to seek alternative choices of energy to improve the quality of living at the optimal cost.

The Faculty of Nursing offers the Bachelor of Nursing Science program. It is the brand new faculty that has been approved by the National Nursing Council. Students will be taught to be professional nurses according to the standard of practices. Nursing graduates from the faculty will be serving in local community and national health service sectors. Research in nursing science also contributes to knowledge development and transfer to community health development. The faculty also concerns on Thai local wisdom in order to make students aware of national culture.

The College of Education offers the Bachelor of Education. This is the largest faculty in the university with wide ranges of 10 majors which are: English, Thai, Mathematics, Computer, Social Studies, Music, Arts, Science, Early Childhood, and Physical Education. It is aimed to produce high standard teachers with knowledge and skills of teaching professional. The graduates from the college are qualified to serve local schools for the needs in educational management.

The College of Management offers Bachelor of Business Administration and Bachelor of Accounting. Students can select 4 main majors in Tourism and Hotel Management, Marketing, Business Computer, and Accounting. The graduates from the college are well-prepared to serve various organizations both in business and government sectors. They also are graduates who have critical and creative mind. The college supports research and studies in national and local wisdom to apply with managerial knowledge.